Youth Worker Call to Action: "Lights On Afterschool"

Have a "Lights On Afterschool" event on October 23 to help increase public support and state funding for youth programs by celebrating afterschool programs and their important role in the lives of children, families and communities. Invite parents, stakeholders, and local elected officials. Tell them why your program matters. It helps when decision makers have exposure to real afterschool programs. Tell your story and why what you do makes a difference. Couple that with research and data. Find great examples, support, technical assistance, and resources on the ignite website. Register your event there also and receive free "Lights On" posters! Contact Brandon if you need help with your event.
